Arctic Opportunities: Québec’s Plan Nord and Maritime Strategy

Marie-Claude Francoeur
Québec Delegate to New England
«Since it was first announced in 2011, the plan has been rightfully praised as groundbreaking in its approach to conservation of boreal forest and tundra areas.»

«The International Union for Conservation of Nature has described the policy as “a guiding light to the globe as we combat the enormous global challenges of biodiversity loss and climate change” and “an outstanding and historic conservation policy that will positively reverberate around the world.”»
